"Independent Journalism."

Independence is very cheap as established by the examples of some self-constituted "independent" newspapers. It is the easiest thing in the world to be independent by ignoring your own judgment and adopting the war cry of the enemy against one of your own party. You get the credit for independence and have to carry none of the responsibility. The Republican party has the extreme happiness to foster several of those interesting adjuncts. They are more common to New York and the West, but New England is not without several newspapers whose politics would be scarcely recognizable save through their own direct assertion. Such newspapers listen very attentively to the remarks of the enemy. Is there a vulnerable point in the course of any of our leaders? The Democratic crankmen turn upon it heavily. Is one dangerously radical? He is a villain. These "independent" Republican journals forth with open their tack-hammers, and observe the golden opportunity. In the name of "independent journalism," of course he's a villain, and we're not afraid to say it! Afraid! Why should they be, when their mission is to feed a morbid appetite only different from that which requires police records, in that its voracity is refined? It is vastly more popular now-a-days for a newspaper to denounce a friend than to be a political champions, and thereby it gains independence—and much circulation. So one after another party leaders who are extraordinarily dangerous to the enemy supply theirs, "independent" collaborers with occasion for many "independent" onslaughts. The last gentleman particularly lacking in Democratic grace and consequently obnoxious to these "independent" newspapers is Gen. Sickles. When the war broke out, Daniel E. Sickles entered the service of the Union at a sacrifice.—He was a Democrat in good standing, but the Union was above Democracy. He was followed by an unfortunate incident, but he is not charged with pecuniary or improper motives in his later career. He fought nobly, and lost a leg in the service. He is a brave, educated, eloquent gentleman, and for his services has been appointed to represent this country at the Court of Spain, and he will honor both. Thereupon the Democracy discover that these wooden-legged heroes are calculated to misrepresent them in reminding the world of their lost cause, and they cry out "outrageous," "disgraceful!" The "independent Republican" newspapers turns up its sanctimonious nose, and echoes the "independent" dribblets. The "independent" newspaper of the day is a curiosity to be sure, and like Joyce Heth, and the Wooly Horse, and the Mermaid, and the What is It, must have its day. This is about gentlemen, but he is remarkable for innocence towards all except his own species, and for not resembling other lions except in his roar!

The results of the Memphis Commercial Convention may not be directly of much account. But it indicates that the South is alive to the importance of co-operative action if its enterprises would thrive. In this respect its influence will be for great good, and it will be worthy of imitation in other quarters. Railroads, factories, and various industries may thrive with the power of co-operation where otherwise they may never appear. It seems about time for Maine to learn that those great commercial organizations are requisite for pushing her power and her influence among the States by developing her resources. The fact becomes more and more apparent that these co-operative movements are to control the business of the country.

Give us cheap freights—is the demand of the age. The petition for the shipment of grain by the Mississippi route has caused a large reduction in the price of railroad transportation throughout the West and thence elsewhere. Contracts have been made to carry wheat from Chicago to Liverpool during the season at 32 cts. (specie) per bushel, including insurance, and guarantee the transportation to New York to be by rail, and from New York to Liverpool in thirty days. By water to New York grain is to be taken at 22 cts., specie, the time to Liverpool to be sixty days. The charges, heretofore from the Mississippi to the sea-board alone, have averaged 52½ cts. (currency) per bushel. Of course this important decrease in freights will increase the market value of produce, and thus while the various lines will hold their own in the increased amount that will be produced, the country may advance in richness by the greater amount of its exports. Cheap freights ultimately benefit all classes.

THE CABINET AND AFFAIRS IN GEORGIA. Washington dispatches to the Boston Journal say that Georgia is just now occupying the attention of President Grant and of his Cabinet. It is understood that while the President is hardly willing yet to resort to the proclamation of martial law, as recommended to Secretary Rawlins, by General Butler, he avows his determination that life and property shall be respected.

General Butler had an interview with the President Friday and Georgia affairs were discussed at length. The General expressed the opinion that where an assassination is committed, and the assassin escapes, it must be with the connivance of the community, and his remedy would be to require the inhabitants of the neighborhood in which the crime is committed to apprehend and deliver up the perpetrators, or perpetrators, within a given time, or have martial law declared there at once. General Butler thinks that this decided assertion of power, perhaps the arrest of a few prominent residents in the vicinity of an assassination, to be retained as hostages, would soon restore order in the most turbulent districts. President Grant regards this plan as rather more severe than is necessary, but he is emphatic in his declarations that the rebellious demonstrations in Georgia must be put down.

Secretary Rawlins coincides with General Butler's view of the situation, and is understood to agree with him that those citizens of a locality in which an assassination is committed who are known to sympathize with the opponents of equality of rights before the law, should be held responsible for the arrest and punishment of the assassins.

The unsatisfactory and conflicting reports from Cuba respecting the insurrection are well illustrated in the remark of a correspondent at Havana. He says: "To listen to a Spaniard for a few minutes, one becomes convinced that the revolution will be over; they have at least got to believing it themselves. Listen to a Cuban, and he will produce sufficient documents and dates to show conclusively that the Spaniards will lose and be compelled to leave the island in a few months, or a year at the furthest."

Harmonious Democracy.

The old motto, the Empire is Peace, loses its significance beside the now idea that modern Democracy is harmony. The placidity and mildness with which the milky tempers have ever soothed the public ills, is worthy of historical memory. It is necessary to be sure, for the love of harmony prospective, that their Southern brothers should shoot and stab in the back those barbarous gentlemen who invade the sacred soil with carpet bags in their hands and Puritan dogmas in their hearts, for these invaders are agitators who disturb the peaceful sports of nigger hunting. But, you know, those Southern Knights-democratic have yearned at heart for such time they can do these little political incursions in secret and not disturb the quiet of Southern institutions. Upon again it should be considered, that gentlemen can go South with one carpet bag, or several carpet bags; they may even have dark complexions and kinky hair; they may be thorough-going Yankees; but their carpet bags and their backs should be paid out with those political hieroglyphics, K. K. K. Isn't that plenty enough? In our own science, what more could a peaceable man ask? If you choose to travel with a radical carpet bag, that is your fault, and you must not be allowed thus ruthlessly to break the peace—just as, if one gets his head broken in attempting to vote against the Mackerelville Democracy, he may well be told that he had no right to do it, and thus defy the peace and harmony of that sacred precinct; and just as, when the Democracy fired upon Fort Sumter, it was the fault of the abolitionists because they had no right to sacrifice the peaceful Democratic succession by electing Mr. Lincoln. Peace and harmony are very easily kept by subscribing to Democratic tenets; otherwise, you are culpable and must look out for number one; one life is nothing when the greatest good is desired for the greatest number. Bowie knives, many disciples of Yankee obstructions in the same way as new railroads, sweep through Dixie, for the public service.

These Aztec been the peaceful inclinations of the Democracy, but the highly inspiring entertainments of shooting and cutting are getting a little stale to it, for which must change, its pass to seek the finer passions of its intellectual constituency, and whose most valiant champions are quietly inclined whilst laboring contention threatened. They have entered a little contest of their own in New York. It isn't the contest of cruel weapons for if there is one not superior in a Democratic sense to shooting, it is voting, and in the most violent passion one Democrat never shoots another Democrat, for the same reason that he never scratches a ticket of the ring. We have recorded that Hoffman and his friends have judorsed the New York World. Since then the Association men of that party have given a character to the Albany Argus, and notwithstanding all Democratic papers sadly need a character, these acts have created a storm of righteous indignation amongst the papers that still have to go before the public without letters of credit. Brick Pomeroy declares war to the hilt, and he flourishes his tomahawk in true aboriginal style. Others are following in his wake, and peace and harmony seem about to have a lively tournament in the great head quarters of unadulterated Democracy. We are fearful that the disease will extend to the branches, and the innocent virus may circulate in Maine. We stand against the prospect. Fancy a Committee giving a reputation to any Democratic paper in this State! Political fingers would be sadly scorched. For example, it would be a great mistake for gentlemen of discretion to list any Democratic organ, and forwards to search its files, and find some one of them during the late unpleasantness roundly berated as a "black Republican," one of "Lincoln's hirelings," or on the other hand, a "copper-head" and a "rebel." They are all right when making peaceful war upon the common enemy but out darts rebound from them like bullets from a crocodile's hide. But for such harmonious elements to jog each other's bows is not all right. Belabor the common enemy, call the Radicals all sorts of handsome names, cut and slash generally, but don't get up any certificates of character for any Democratic papers, unless you include the whole. A different course would be followed by the pugnacious of very large wind bags by the pigs of the contemporaries of the lucky candidates. The resulting collapse would display an awfully miscellaneous literary and political wreck. Here would be a row old and crumbling bucks of the hundred-eyed daily just erecting a monument over the decay in American common-place here some burnt and crooked specimens of a flash make, representing bond-tax-dodger, black in places with all shades of abolitionism, distinctly claiming to be the Democrat of the whole State; here others, cast from a Northern soil of a Southern mould, representing the martyrs to radical hatred, square edged and colorless and straight haired, from THE Democrat of the universe; here a few with rounded corners, the result of many hard knocks from general teetotal eclipses upon the day of dubious loyalty, representing the standard of party morals; and many other broken bricks would attest a good many more political crotchets. It would puzzle the most conscientious Democrat, (and that's saying a good deal) to know where the certificate ought to fall. But, looking over the field impartially, we hope it won't fall anywhere. A two sided contest is agreeable compared to the legionary corners of such a lively competition as this would offer. The incendiary has entered the quiet of New York Democracy, rending them asunder, and even without the interference of our virtuous table-boys of that persuasion, we are promised a rich season of sparring in the wigwam. Democracy may be peace, but too many elements of power will not allow harmony where it gets a fist-hold of a State treasury. Look out for rain, and wind, and hail about next fall, for Tammony and Mozart and Manhattan and the Albany Regency and the Red Hot Bricks are already wool-pulling in a very lively manner.

Secretary Boutwell will continue to sell $2,000,000 of gold per week so long as the gold continues to increase in the Treasury, but he is not yet prepared to say whether he shall increase his weekly purchases of the bonds. He considers that he has discharged all his moral obligations by reducing the debt at the rate of 1 per cent. per annum, but he has not yet made up his mind whether the law does not allow him to go further in this respect. He intends to keep only so much gold in the Treasury as will be sufficient to meet the wants of the service. The receipts from customs are unusually large, and the gold accumulates faster than he had any reason to suppose it would some time ago. An idea of this accumulation may be obtained from the following figures taken from the books of the Treasury of the amount of gold exclusive of certificates on hand on the following dates: May 3d, $84,000,000; May 7th, $85,000,000; May 10th, $86,000,000; May 17, $88,000,000; May 20th $89,000,000. Internal revenue receipts are running very handsomely. For the 20 days of May they are in excess of twelve millions, and for the month promise to fully equal, if they do not exceed seventeen millions. This amount of currency, together with that realized from the sale of gold will more than meet the wants of the Treasury so long a very gratifying decrease of the national debt may be looked for on the 1st of June. At that time the new feature of the sinking fund account will enter into the composition of the statement.

Republic of Cuba.

The Cuban correspondence of the New York Herald of Thursday, contained the important intelligence of the formal establishment of the Republic of Cuba by the Congress held at Guaimaro, a small town in the Central Department of the island. Don Carlos Manuel de Cespedes was elected President of the Republic, and General Manuel Quesada was chosen Commander-in-Chief of the army. The following proclamation has been issued by President Cespedes:—

To the People of Cuba:—

Compatriots—The establishment of a free government in Cuba, on the basis of democratic principles, was the most fervent wish of my heart. The effective realization of this wish was thwarted, sufficiently to satisfy my ambitions, until amply repay the services which, jointly with you, I may have been able to devote to the cause of Cuban independence. But the will of my compatriots has gone far beyond this, by investing me with the supreme authority of the Republic in order that, blind to the great labors required in the exercise of the high functions which you have placed in my charge, these critical moments, notwithstanding the powers of the dictatorship which I am honored with, may be derived from other sources than the grave responsibility which I assume in accepting the Presidency of our new-born Republic. I know that my weak powers would be far from equal to the demand if left to themselves alone. But this will not occur, and that conviction fills me with faith in the future. In the just act of decreeing the struggle with the oppressor, in order to accept the heroic duty of contending for independence or perish in the attempt, and in giving herself a democratic government, she obliges herself to become Republican. The double obligation, proclaimed in the presence of free America, is before the liberal world, and, what is more, before our own conscience, is a pledge of our determination to be honorable and to be victorious. Cubans! On your heroic self-sacrifice depends the future of our independence and the welfare of our children.

CARLOS MANUEL DE CESPEDES.

Guimaro, April 11, 1869.

General Quesada also issued a proclamation, addressed to the army, which concluded as follows:—

The tyrant Caballeria rambles with the inconsistency which rend the heretofore knit over the fields of Cuba. He has no conscience other evil, but now the addition of the greater one of publishing to be a proclamation, which we can only describe by propounding it to be a proclamation worthy of the Spanish government. Thereby our property is mortgaged by fines and pillage. This is no thing. Threatening us with death, and this is nothing. But our own mothers, wives, daughters, and sisters we are menaced with rebut to violence, I implore you, soldiers of Cuba, by the sacred ashes that repose in Yumuri, that document will be for the true supremacy for the triumph of our cause. That document is an additional spur to check another conquest. Let these ships which nature has conceded to the tyrant of the land of foreshadowing and of warning. We have to struggle with always such—the very genius of the Inquisition, of the Conquest and of Spanish dominion in America. In birth and in death they live and have lived, the Torquemadas, the Pizarros, the Rovedas, the Horitzs, the Tacons, the Concheis and the Valmasedas. We have to combat with the assassins of the old women and of children, with the murderers of the dead, with the robbers of gold!

Cubans! If you would save your honor and that of your families; if you would regain forever your liberty—be soldiers. Will to be free to peace and to happiness. Victory is ours. Viva Cuba! Viva the Free Republic! Viva the Liberating Army! Patria and Libertad.

NOVA SCOTIA. The Editor of the Boston Journal has had a conversation with a gentleman who, on business relations with the British maritime Provinces brings him no encouragement relative to the business taste of Nova Scotia. He has been lately visiting that Province, and reports that every kind of business is very dull, and that the people are generally and bitterly complaining to the opinion that they were better annexation or permanent relief. The agitation of the repeal movement has only tended to increase the desire for union with the United States. What an extraordinary phenomenon the rule of England in America presents at this time! She would cheerfully give up all her possession on this continent, but like the Irishman who had the wolf by the ear, "can't let go and can't keep it," colonies without resources are a large burden of their people.

THE JAY COOKE FORGED CHECKS. Jas Smith, who was arrested a few weeks ago on the charge of having forged all or part of a check or checks on the Bank of the State of New York, purporting to have been drawn by Jay Cooke & Co., pleaded guilty to the indictment in the Court of Sessions on Monday last, and was remanded by Judge Bedford to custody. The particulars of the prisoner's dispatch finally of the efforts made by the bank to establish the genuineness of the checks, which, with both duplicate numbers, they had charged with a view of throwing upon that house the necessity of proving them counterfeit.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 22.

The most that can be reliably ascertained of the instructions to Minister Motley is that they are more of a general than specific character, and don't contemplate any speedy action on his part with regard to the Alabama claims further than the present amount in England upon the broader reason Mr Motley will inform his Majesty's Government of the desire of our own to adjust all pending questions on a basis that will strengthen the friendly relations between the two countries.

The supply of fractional currency in the Treasury being exhausted, no new fractional notes or notes of the denomination of $1 and $2 will be issued in exchange for old currency, until the new plates and water marked paper recently ordered by the Secretary are ready, which will be about the 1st of next July.

CABLE NEWS.

LONDON, May 22. The Times this morning has another editorial on the Alabama question, suggested by the recent speech of Mr. Foster. The Times says England has equal cause of complaint against America. Great Britain resisted the temptation to recognize the South, thereby inflicting sufferings on her own people and disobliging an ally, and in fact declared in favor of the North, and is now understood and accused of hostility and selfishness.

The Pall Mall Gazette, an independent newspaper, also has a leading article on the Alabama claims question. The writer says, "Whatever England did in respect to the Americans, France did and ten times more, for nothing but our refusal of her invitation to recognize the Southern Confederacy saved the North from a more trying and doubtful contest. Sir Francis Head has communicated several additional official documents to prove the assistance extended by America to the Canadian revolt in 1837. He asserts in his letter accompanying the documents that Mr Sumner's language applies to those cases as well as to the case of the Alabama, but the English Government never received or claimed indemnity."

The Weekly Spectator (Whig) published today also discusses the question. It says: "The truth told by Mr. Forster, the old and staunch friend of America, must teach Americans how universal the resistance would be if Mr. Sumner's demands were seriously pressed."

One of the greatest meetings ever assembled, was held in Belfast, Ireland, today, to protest against the disestablishment of the Irish Church. It is estimated that nearly 200,000 people were present.

MADRID, May 22. In the Cortes yesterday Article 34th of the national constitution was adopted.

The Republican newspapers of this city assert that the recent vote of the Cortes has only deferred the scheme for a federal republic, not defeated it. A republic sooner or later must come through the want of a monarch, and the absence of unanimity on the part of a majority of the Cortes.

Queen Isabella has proposed to abdicate in favor of her son, the Prince of Asturias. Gonzales Bravo, her former Prime Minister, and others, have advised her otherwise.

PARIS, May 22. Gen. Dix, the American Minister, today had an interview with the Emperor, at which he introduced Mr. Washburne as his successor, and took formal leave of His Majesty.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.

The following Chinese advices are received—

The funeral ceremonies of Maj. General Brunker, commander of the English forces in China and Japan, and Lieut. Governor of Hong Kong, took place on the 27th of March, with full military honors, the English, American and other naval officers taking part in the procession.

The American Minister was shortly expected at Shanghae from the South. Besides visiting Canton, it was his intention to pince a Vice Consul to in Hankow as soon as he could communicate with the Government of Pekin. Mr. C. D. Williams, a well known resident of Chipa, had been selected for the post.

Advices from Pekin are to the effect that a terrible drouth was prevailing, and unless rain fell soon, serious damage would result to the crops. The Emperor visited the temples daily for the purpose of offering prayers for rain.

The Imperial Treasury had been broken into and plundred of 9000 taels of silver.

Velocipedes are numerous in Shanghai.

Canton reports that the weather continues unfavorable for the new crop. Some men assert the whole of the first crop is seriously damaged.

The United States steamer was at Hong Kong on the 15th of April.

Business at Hong Kong was unusually dull.

Advices from Mazatlan to May 6th have been received. Official dispatches from General Pano announce the termination of the revolution in the State of Sinaloa. Burning of a Ship at Sea—Passengers and Crew Rescued.

NEW YORK, May 22.

Bark Anita from Palermo, arrived to Jay. She reports that on April 22d, lat. 2, N., lon. 28, long. 45 W., fell in with a large ship on fire, which proved to be the British ship Omar Pasha, 81 days from Ipswich, Australia, for London, with 52 passengers and a crew of 25 men. Took off the passengers and crew without accident and transferred 12 of the passengers to the Spanish brig bound to Barcelona and at the same time 10 others to a British bark bound to London. On April 30th, being short of provisions, put two officers on a Prussian brig from Buenos Ayres for Hamburg, and the same morning, with the exception of one passenger, transferred the remaining passengers and crew to a British ship from Calmo for Cork. Did not ascertain the names of any of the vessels, as they were spoken during the night.

Mr. B says he was misinformed, and he believes wilfully imposed upon by certain persons hereby in no manner bases upon good authority that Mr. Stone and the other person mentioned are living.

The Insurrection in Cuba.

HAVANA, May 22.

Information has been received here of the landing of 300 filibusters near Gibora. There was an obstinate fight with the troops on the shore, in which the Spanish captured two cannon and lost 32 men, and wounded. The result is unknown.

Fighting is reported near Trinidad and Cienfuegos, with heavy losses and appalling atrocities on both sides.

Remedios is in a state of anarchy. The insurgents are ubiquitous in that jurisdiction, and small bands of Spaniards and Cubans are engaged in mutual murder and robbery.

From Havana.

HAVANA, May 22.

In future all American vessels entering the ports of Cuba, will be charged the same tonnage dues as Spanish vessels.

The rains which have prevailed here for the last few days have ceased.

Hopes are entertained that within a short time the business of the bank will be resumed. The statement of the officers of the bank for the month ending the 15th of May, is as follows: Total liabilities, $1,920,491; total assets, $2,300,854. There is no run on any of the other banks.
